

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE AND MORALITY OF PRIMARY STUDENT
TEACHERS OF MALABAR

Name of student : PRIYA. T.
Name of supervising Teacher : ABDUL HAMEED MUTKAR MAHAL
Year of study : 2006

OBJECTIVES

To find out there exists any significant relationship between Emotional Intelligence and Morality of primary student teachers for total sample and subsamples.

METHODOLOGY

Method used : Survey method
Sample : 600 primary student teachers studying in various T.T.I of Malabar.
Tool : Morality Index Scale, Emotional Intelligence Scale
Statistical Techniques : Pearson's Product Moment Coefficient of Correlation (r), 't' test, ANOVA

RESULT

Results show that there exists moderate relationship between Emotional Intelligence and Morality of primary student teachers. The female student teachers are higher in the level of Morality than male student teachers.

KEY TERMS: Emotional Intelligence, Morality, Primary Student Teachers.