

INTERACTION EFFECT OF SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONAL CLIMATE AND HOME ENVIRONMENT ON OCCUPATIONAL MENTAL HEALTH OF PRIMARY SCHOOL STUDENTS

Name of the Student : RENIYA N.A.
Name of Supervising Teacher : Dr. MUMTHAS N.S.
Year of the Study : 2007

OBJECTIVE

To test whether the variables School Organizational Climate and Home Environment have significant main and interaction effect on occupational mental health of Primary School Teachers.

METHODOLOGY

Method Used : Survey Method
Sample : 400 Primary School Teachers from Kerala
Tools : 1. Home Environment Scale (Mumthas & Raniya, 2006)
2. Scale of School Organizational Culture (Gafoor, 2002)
3. Occupational Mental Health Scale (Vijayakumari & Jayasree, 2002)

Statistical Techniques: Two Way ANOVA with 3×3 factorial design.

RESULT

The findings of the study reveal that the school organizational Climate and Home Environment showed significant main effect on Occupational Mental Health of Primary School Teachers. But the interaction effects are not significant

KEY TERMS: school Organizational Climate, Home Environment, and occupational Mental Health