

SOCIAL SENSITIVITY OF PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS IN KERALA

Name of the student : VARUN. R.S.
Name of the Supervising Teacher : Dr. K. VIJAYAKUMARI
Year of study : 2011

OBJECTIVE

To find out the extent of social sensitivity among prospective teachers.

METHODOLOGY

Method : Survey method
Sample : 400 prospective teachers.
Tool : Social Sensitivity Inventory
Statistical techniques : Test of significance of mean difference for large dependent samples.
One way ANOVA

RESULT

Result of the study shows that Social sensitivity of prospective teachers are not satisfactory.

KEY TERMS: Social sensitivity, prospective teachers