

LONELINESS AND MULTIMEDIA USAGE AMONG HIGHER SECONDARY SCHOOL
STUDENTS

Name of the student : REJISH M
Name of the supervising teacher : Dr. K. VIJAYAKUMARI
Year of Study : 2012

OBJECTIVE

- To find out the extent of loneliness and multimedia usage among higher secondary school students.
- To find out there exists any significant difference in Loneliness among subgroups based on gender, locale, type of management and subject of study.
- To find out the extent of multimedia usage among higher secondary school students.
- To find out if there exists any significant difference in the multimedia usage among the subsamples.

METHODOLOGY

Method : Survey
Sample : 535 Higher secondary school students
Tool : UCLA loneliness scale, Multimedia usage questionnaire
Statistical Technique : Descriptive statistics, T-test, One-way Anova

RESULT

- Higher secondary school students feel moderate level of loneliness
- There is no gender based, locality based and subject wise difference in the level of loneliness
- There exists a positive low co-relation between loneliness and extent of multimedia usage among higher secondary school students

KEYTERMS: Loneliness, multimedia usage

CD No. 352