

SOCIO-CULTURAL & POLITICAL ALIENATION AMONG UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS OF KERALA

Name of the student : MANILA P
Name of the supervising teacher : Dr. P.P. NOUSHAD
Year of study : 2013

OBJECTIVE

To find out the extent of socio-cultural and political alienation among undergraduate students.

METHODOLOGY

Method used : Survey method
Sample : 859 undergraduate students
Tool : Socio-cultural and political alienation scale
Statistical Techniques : Preliminary analysis, Test of significance of difference between mean, One way ANOVA

RESULT

The result reveals that there exist no significant difference in socio-cultural and political alienation among undergraduate students based on gender, locale and subject of study. There exists significant difference in socio-cultural and political alienation among undergraduate students based on type of management.

KEY TERMS Social alienation, cultural alienation, Political alienation, Undergraduate students.