

NON ACCADEMIC EFFECTS OF HOME STUDY TASKS IN HIGH PERFORMING SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Name of student : SONITHA V
Name of supervising teacher : Dr P P NOUSHAD
Year of the study : 2014

OBJECTIVES

- To find out the effect of home study tasks on non academic aspects of student behavior among high performing secondary students
- To compare the non academic effects of home study tasks in high performing secondary school students based on their gender and type of management

METHODOLOGY

Method : Survey method
Sample : 600 high performing secondary school students
Tool : Scale on non academic effects of home study tasks(Noushad&Sonitha 2014)

Statistical technique: Test of significance of difference between mean, One way ANOVA

RESULT

Effects of non academic effect of home study tasks in high performing secondary school students are very high. There is significant difference between mean scores of non academic effects of home study tasks based on gender and type of management

KEY TERMS: Non academic tasks, Performance

CD No. 438